We continued our study of oceans this week. Monday, we read about whales, colored a whale book, and measured out the length of whales on our playground to see just how big they are. Tuesday, we studied sea turtles and drew sea turtles. Wednesday, we read Rainbow Fish and made rainbow fish for the class ocean. Thursday, we studied sharks. And Friday, we read about dolphins. The "K" Kids are getting to be wonderful writers! This is such an exciting time of year to be a kindergarten teacher because you can see such progress. ☺

We continued our Topic on Time this week. We sequenced events and talked about the pattern of morning, noon, afternoon, evening, and night. We also practiced reading clocks on the hour and ½ hour. Finally, we made a Hickory Dickory Dock Book of time and rhyming words.

Save the Date!

Our "Celebration of Learning" (graduation) will be held Thursday, May 15th at 2:00 pm in our classroom. We will have a short program, get our diplomas, and celebrate our year in video. You won't want to miss it!
