We spent time this week learning about US Presidents, the White House, and Washington, DC. We read books about the different presidents and sang a song with all of the presidents' names. The students especially enjoyed the fun little facts about the different people and pets in the White House. Ask your favorite "K" Kid to share a fun fact or two about George Washington or one of our other presidents.

Valentine Fun

Thanks to all who donated treats and helped with our Valentine Party. Check out our website for pictures of the fun! Have a wonderful winter break!!

Our Solar System

Tuesday— PE/Music

Wednesday— Computer Lab/Library

Thursday— PE/Music

Friday— Computer Lab

*Math***

While learning about Presidents, we started talking about money. Our kindergarten objective is to identify the penny, nickel, dime, and quarter and know the value of each. We also started working on number stations during our math time. Each child is building with five objects. We then record, or copy, what we made. Soon we will be writing equations ( $2+3=5$ ) etc. Kindergarten students aren't expected to memorize any addition/subtraction facts, but to understand that there are several combinations to make the number 5. As individual students demonstrate proficiency with the number five, they will be moving on to higher numbers at their own pace.

We are going to be learning about our solar system over the next couple of weeks. We will be building a rocket center with mission control and creating a mural of our solar system. If you have any books, puzzles, or games about our solar system that you would be willing to share with our class, please send them to school with your favorite "K" Kid.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Brockhaus, Mrs.
Moneymaker, Mrs. Day and the "K"
Kids
